

Poker For Roulette is a patent pending side bet and payoff system that can be incorporated into any standard Roulette game.

It allows a player to place a minimal bet that the next five outcomes will produce a result that can be thought of as a Poker hand. The higher the Poker hand ranking, the more it pays, with a Progressive Jackpot for the highest ranking hands.

Roulette has often been described as one of the casino's easiest games to learn how to play. The Poker For Roulette side bet is equally simple, and offers a huge jackpot prize. It can generate a lot of interest among Roulette players, as well as create new interest in Roulette, particularly with the current surge in interest in poker.

Advantages

Poker For Roulette does not cause the game to run slower. Unlike card game side bets that require additional analysis of every hand, with PFR, the analysis is done automatically, and all winning players are paid the same amount, making the dealer's payout actions simple.

It is simple for players to learn.

It is easy to explain. Dealers can say, "You're betting that the next five spins will produce results that resemble a poker hand. It's that simple."

It is easy for dealers and floor people to learn and to operate.

A community excitement is created, drawing attention from passers-by.

About 32% of five spin combinations will pay winners at least 2 for 1, with a house edge of about 10.5%.

Players can bet on overlapping, concurrent 5 spins, thereby always having multiple unresolved bets at any one time.

Available for Single- or Double-Zero, and 4 or 5 spin combinations.

Future

Non-Roulette players will be able to place multiple consecutive bets, get a receipt, and return later to see the results.

Any Wild Five of a Kind wins a portion of the Progressive Jackpot.

Any Natural Five of a Kind wins the entire Progressive Jackpot.

Simple to learn.

Simple to play.

Simple to deal.
